Access Notes

1. The walk is relatively flat, with only very gentle gradients. The route follows a mixture of tarmac paths, tarmac access tracks, unmade tracks and grass tracks, the latter of which are uneven surfaces and can get muddy.
2. You will not be sharing any of the paths with livestock and there are no stiles, gates or steps on route. You will only need to negotiate a couple of wooden footbridges (which have only a 6cm step up to them), meaning the walking route would be suitable for rugged pushchairs or disability buggies when the ground is dry.
3. Please remember the Countryside Code. Some paths are provided by kind permission of the landowner, please only use the waymarked paths. Where young stock may be present, please make sure your dog is under firm control in these areas.

the first side road on the right, called Back Lane (although there is no sign), and follow this road as it swings left to pass the village school on your right. Immediately after the school, turn right onto the signed public bridleway, a tarmac path leading you between dense hedgerows.

Follow this path directly ahead for a stretch and bearing left for a further stretch of 300m, then carefully cross over the tarmac farm roadway ahead (taking care of any vehicles). Just five paces ahead, turn right to follow the signed public footpath, a grass track with a hedgerow running on your left and the farm roadway running across to your right.

Within the field to your left, you will notice the distinctly undulating surface, a fine example of historic ridge and furrow cultivation. Behind this field, you will be able to see the cricket pitch and church spire in nearby Nocton village. The grass track leads you directly into a small woodland, Burton Plantation.

1 → 2 Burton Plantation to Green Lane

Follow the obvious woodland path which swings left, with the steep banks and metal railings of a reservoir up to your right. You will emerge out to a T-junction with a tarmac track. Turn right to join this, passing through Burton Plantation, which is home to many spring flowers.

Part way along, ignore the footpath signed off to the left, instead keep ahead on the main tarmac track. Further along, the track merges with another tarmac roadway (coming in from the right). Simply keep ahead on the main tarmac roadway (taking care of any farm traffic), passing the pretty round stone gateposts for the estate office on your right.

Continue past the estate buildings (which are across to your right) and then a small, pretty plantation (which is surrounded by a beautiful woven hedge) also on your right. Immediately after this small plantation, you will see a fingerpost on your right. Turn right here to join the restricted byway known as Green Lane.

2 → 3 Green Lane to Crossroads

Follow this unmade track ahead to reach the next fingerpost. Ignore the bridleway signed to the left, instead continue ahead on the restricted byway, passing the beginning of Nocton Wood on your left. Continue until you reach the next fingerpost (which is located where the tall hedgerow on your right ends).

Turn right here to join the signed public footpath, a wide grass track which leads you between large open fields. About halfway along this grass track, you will come to a crossroads with a sandy vehicle track.

3 → 4 Crossroads to End

Cross over the sandy track and go straight ahead to continue on the grass track between fields. Now simply keep ahead, crossing two wooden footbridges along the way. Immediately after the second footbridge, you will come to a T-junction with another grass track. Turn left and you will emerge to the end of Willow Lane, a residential lane within Dunston village.

Turn right to walk along the length of Willow Lane. At the end, you will come to a T-junction with Back Lane (which you should recognise from the outward leg). Turn left and then left again at the next junction onto Middle Street. This leads you directly back to the Red Lion on your left where the walk began.
